more effectively and efficiently. They feel that their skills are properly used and they tend to contribute more attention to the job.

6. Other Benefits

Proper selection of candidates reduces absenteeism. They would pay better attention to their jobs and take safety precautions on their own accord would minimize the occurance of work place accidents.

11.05 Selection differs from Recruitment

Recruitment and selection play a vital role in the Human Resource Management. These are the two sides of the same coin but there exists some difference between the two. The difference have been highlighted and the exhibit is given below.

11. 06 Placement

Introduction on Placement is an important human resource activity after a candidate has been selected. He / she should be placed on a particular job. In fact, placement signifies placing the right person on the right job in a good manner. The term 'placement' includes initial assignment of new employees and promotion, transfer or demotion of present employees.

The process of placing the right man on the right job is called 'Placement'.

In other words, Placement is a process of assigning a specific job to each and every candidate selected.

According to Dale Yoder, Placement may be defined as "the determination of the job to which an accepted candidate is to be assigned, and his assignment to that job".

11.07 Significance of Placement

The significance of the placement is given below

i) It improves employee morale

ii) It helps in reducing employee turnover

iii) It helps in reducing conflict rates or accidents

iv) It avoids misfit between the candidates and the job.

v) It helps the candidate to work as per the predetermined objectives of the organization

vi) It involves assigning a specific rank and responsibilities to an individual

vii) It helps to avoid short term staff shortage.

11.08 Principles of Placement

Following principles are followed at the time of placement of an employee:

1. Job First, Man Next

Man should be placed on the job according to the requirements of the job. There is no compromise on the requirements or qualifications of the man with respect to job. "Job first Man next" should be principles of Placement.

2. Job Offer

The job should be offered to the man based on his qualification.

3. Terms and conditions

The employee should be made conversant with the conditions and culture prevailing in the organization and all those things relating to the job.

4. Aware about the Penalties

The employee should also be made aware of the penalties if he / she commits a wrong or lapse.

5. Loyalty and Co-operation

When placing new recruit on the job, an effort should be made to develop a sense of loyalty and co-operation in him, so that he/ she may realise his/her responsibilities better towards the job and the organization.

Placement is not an easy process. It is very difficult for an new employee, who
