(ii) Ascertained Goods

The term 'ascertained goods' is also used as similar in meaning to specific goods. But this term may even refer to goods which become ascertained subsequent to the formation of the contract.

(iii) Unascertained or Generic Goods

These are goods which are not identified and agreed upon at the time of contract of sale. For eg. A wants to buy a car from a showroom where different models at different prices have been displayed. All these displayed models represents unascertained goods.

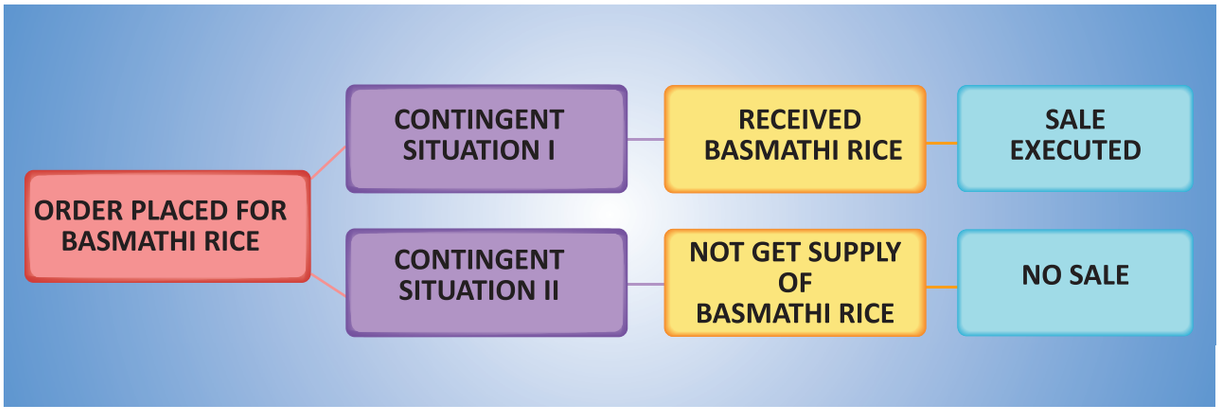

2. Future Goods

These are goods which a seller does not possess at the time of contract of sale but which will be manufactured or produced or acquired by him after entering into the contract of sale agreement. Eg. 'A' contractor agrees to supply 100 bags of rice to 'B' for giving marriage feast. It is a case of future goods. Similarly where the bus company agrees to buy spare parts from a particular supplier, it is an example of future contract. Future goods represents unascertained goods.

3. Contingent Goods

Contingent goods are the goods, the acquisition of which by the seller depends upon a contingency (an event which may or may not happen). Contingent goods are a part of future goods. Eg.'A' agrees to sell a particular painting work, provided he gets from 'C'. In this case, the painting work represents contingent goods. Similarly a rice merchant agrees to supply 10 bags of basmathi rice from Pakistan if he get supplies. In this case, basmathi rice representing contingent goods may or may not be available to the rice merchant.
