(a) Where they have acted ultra-vires the company

For example, where they apply the funds of the company to objects not specified in the memorandum of association or when they pay dividends out of capital.

(b) Where there is a breach of trust

Directors being the trustees of the company, they should discharge their duties in the best interest of the company; Where they commit a breach of trust resulting in a loss to the company, they are bound to make good the loss. For example, where the directors of the companies utilise company's property for their own benefit, they are guilty of breach of trust.

(c) Misfeasance

Directors are liable to the company for misfeasance. The word misfeasance covers willful negligence. However mere failure on the part of the director to take necessary steps for recovery of debts due to the company does not constitute misfeasance.

3. Criminal liabilities of directors:
