5. Explain the following lines with reference to the context.

a) and guide him among sudden betrayals
and tighten him for slack moments.

b) Brutes have been gentled where lashes failed.

c) Yet learning something out of every folly
hoping to repeat none of the cheap follies

d) He will be lonely enough
to have time for the work

6. Answer the following questions in about 100-150 words each.

a) Explain how the poet guides his son who is at the threshold of manhood, to face the challenges of life.

b) How according to the poet is it possible for his son to bring changes into a world that resents change?

Listening

Listen to the poem read by the teacher or to the recorded version and write a synopsis in about 100 words. The teacher can choose any three stanzas.

Speaking

"Tell him too much money has killed men
and left them dead years before burial:"

These are the lines you have just read from the poem.

Given below is a well-known quotation.

"Cowards die many times
before their death".

Study the quotations and identify the adverse human qualities that are worse than 'death' and discuss the underlying message conveyed.

Read the summary of the extract.

He teaches him to think before he acts, restrain from taking rash decisions, keep his thoughts to himself and treat people with respect and equality. He advises him to keep his old friends, however be careful about making new acquaintances. He should be slow to fight but fight boldly if the need arises; he should listen more than talk; he should dress richly. Moreover he should be careful about borrowing and lending money and above all be true to himself. He advises him how to behave with integrity and practicality. While all the advice is good, the best doesn't come until the end- "To thine own self be true." Be a man of honour and integrity. Live life in a way that allows you to look at yourself in the mirror and not be ashamed.
