STAGES OF FOETAL DEVELOPMENT

V1XLA

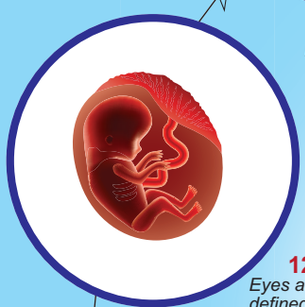

20 Weeks
Length of foetus increases Hair on the head and eyebrows. Skin becomes covered with sebaceous gland

16 Weeks
Lower limbs reach final development. Movements are seen

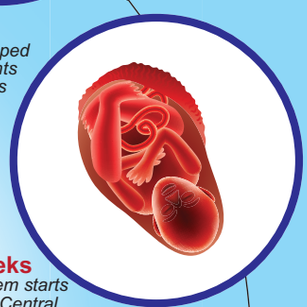

24 Weeks
Lungs are well developed Rapid eye movements begin. Foetus starts gaining weight

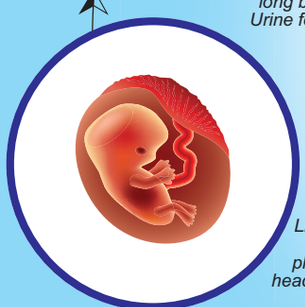

12 Weeks
Eyes and ears are well defined. Ossification of long bones are seen Urine formation begins

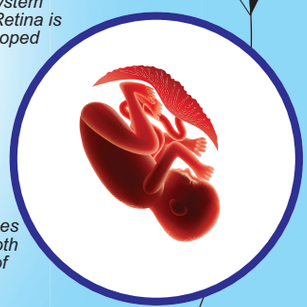

28 Weeks
Immune system starts developing. Central nervous system developed. Retina is well developed

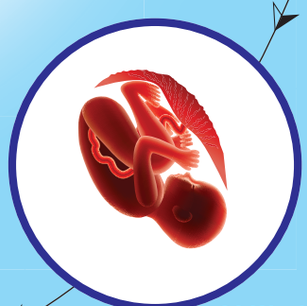

8 Weeks
Limbs and digits fully formed. Movements start taking place. Neck appears between head and thorax. External genitalia show sex differences

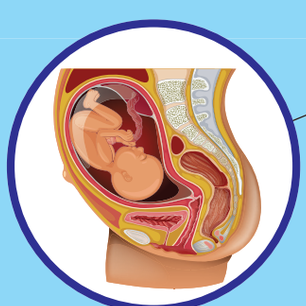

32 Weeks
Body weight increases rapidly. Skin is smooth due to deposition of subcutaneous fat

4 Weeks
Formation of foregut, midgut and hindgut. Heart starts functioning. Forebrain is most prominent. Upper limbs appears as paddle-shaped buds

36 Weeks
Blood vessels are completely developed. Baby is positioned into the pelvis in head down position

40 Weeks
Baby is fully formed. Ready to be born any day