subordinates on an ongoing basis in order to accomblish pre-set goals. Employees are kept informed of all necessary matters by circulars, instructions manuals, newsletters, notice-boards, meeting, participative mechanism etc., in order to enable the employees to accomplish the organizational goals.

5. Motivating

The goals are achieved with the help of motivation. Motivation includes increasing the speed of performance of a work and developing a willingness on the part of workers. This is done by a resourceful leader. The workers expect, favourable climate conditions to work, fair treatment, monetary or non-monetary incentive, effective communication and gentleman approach.

6. Controlling

Controlling is performed to evaluate the performance of employees and deciding increments and promotion decisions. The control function helps in identifying under performers and arranging remedial training for them. It is the control function which facilitates synchronization of actual performance with predetermined standards.

7. Co-ordination

Co-ordination is the synchronization (or unification or integration) of the actions of all individuals, working in the enterprise in different capacities; so as to lead to the most successful attainment of the common objectives. Co-ordination is included in every managerial function; Eg (i) Planning and co-ordination, (ii).Organising and co-ordination, (iii) Staffing and co-ordination, (iv) Directing and co-ordination, (v) Motivation and co-ordination and (iv) Controlling and co-ordination.

All the activities are divided groupwise or sectionwise under organising function. Now, such grouped activities are co-ordinated towards the accomplishment of objectives of an organisation. The difficulty of co-ordination depends upon the size of organisation. The difficulty of co-ordination is increased with the increasing size of the organisation.
